Quakers Resent Giving Up Machines Bought From Pegg Boys

HEARING TO BE HELD TUESDAY

The Pittsburg officers who had an exciting time in Mt. Pleasant, Ohio, last week, in arresting the Pegg brothers, had a similar experience Friday afternoon and evening in the same town when they went to recover the automobiles that had been sold to the Quakers in that community.

When Lieut. Harry Mellen, accompanied three other detectives, went to get the machines the purchasers refused to give them up. The Pittsburg officers held a consultation and decided to use strategy. Accordingly they left the village and telephoned to Pittsburg for assistance. This was sent to them in the way of 10 husky chauffeurs, who operate "for hire" machines.

The minute these "huskies" got on the job there was action every

Remember Your Home Candidates For Commissioner, Treasurer and Sheriff

JOHN O. WATSON

A Home Candidate For Nomination as County Commissioner on the Republican Ticket

John O. Watson of North Charleroi, is a candidate for re-nomination as a Republican candidate for County Commissioner. Mr. Watson believes he has made good in his first term, and knows he can make good again. Mr. Watson in a statement to the public, says:

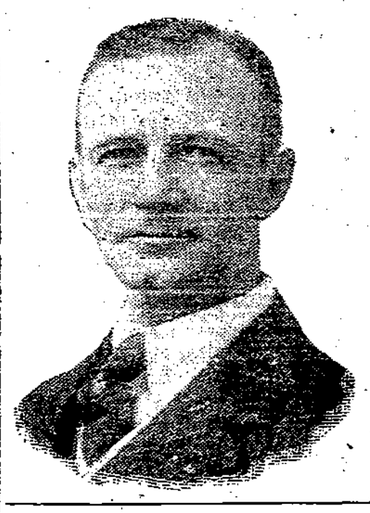
I can say without fear of contradiction that I have not entered into any deal with any faction to bring defeat to any of my opponents. I can enter upon the duties of Commissioner unhampered, unpledged and unbossed. This places me in a position where I can work for the benefit of the people of the county and not for a few. I have been endorsed gy some of the best men in the county, who have approved of my course in the past. I respectfully ask a renewal of your confidence." Signed, John O. Watson.

ALEX B. GRAY

A Home Candidate for Nomination as Sheriff On the Republican Ticket

Alex B. Gray has made his campaign to be the Republican candidate for Sheriff on the Republican ticket of Washington county. He asks the endorsement of the public and assures them that if selected for this important position he will administer the office strictly in accordance with the law—as a branch of the public service and not as a personal perquiste.

Alex Gray's active life has been spent in this section of the valley. Working in the mines as a boy he later attended California Normal, thence going to State Colege, where he graduated in engineering. After receiving his degree he was employed by the State on road construction in Washington county, and when the war broke out entered the service of the United States. He selected the aviation service, and was commissioned as a Lieutenant in that important field of operations. He was mustered out of the service last winter, after the armistice was signed, and returned once m ore to the practice of his profession. He asks the support of the people of his home section, and he deserves it.



JAMES P. CASTNER

Candidate for Treasurer of Washington County on the Republican Ticket

James P. Castner, of Donora, who is before the people of the county as a candidate for Treasurer, is worthy of the Republican voters of this section of the valley. Mr. Castner and his forebearers have been residents of this section of the valley for over a century. He has spent all of his life in Carroll township and the borough of Donora and has never before sought office at the hands of the epople. He is largely interested in business affairs of his home town and is a candidate who should have the hearty support of the people of this section of the valley.

Salvation Army Workers Are Raising Charleroi Quota

SATURDAY IS "DOUGHNUT DAY"

A very enthusiastic meeting of the team captains and teams was held at the Elk's Club rooms yesterday afternoon. Today the teams start an active campaign of their district and feel certain that their quota will be over subscribed. Owing to the fact that Tuesday is Primary Day, there will be no solicitation done that day, but the drive will be extended until Thursday and by this time it is fully expected that everyone in the community will have been solicited. On Saturday next 110 young ladies of the High School have volunteered to sell doughnuts. A doughnut stand will be erected at the corner of Fallowfield avenue and Sixth Street and Capain Melpham, champion doughnut maker of the Savation Army will give a public exhibition of making doughnuts. This will bring the drive to a final close. While the Elks

A MARK FOR COREY WILL BE APPRECIATED

G. W. COREY

To the Republican Voters:

When you mark your ballot next Tuesday you will find my name the second one on the list and a mark in the square for me will be appreciated. I have been a resident of Charleroi for the past 28 years and for a number of years have served faithfully on the police force of the town. I leave it to your own judgement as to whether I have given the work the attention it should have. If nominated and elected as constable I promise to give the office the same careful attention as has characterized my work as patrolman.

COMPANY H. MEN URGE SUPPORT FOR AIKEN

Soldiers Rally to Standard of Former Commander Who is Seeking Republican Nomination for Register of Wills

Members of Company H, 110th Regiment, 28th Division, who served with Lieut. Col. John Aiken in France have endorsed his candidacy for Register of Wills, as is shown by the fact that every member at a meeting of the company in the Y. M. C. A. yesterday afternoon, heartily approved of his candidacy. The following should set at rest reports to the contrary:

"To the Voters of Washington county:

"The services rendered by Lieutenant-Colonel John Aiken in the World War are such as, in our opinion, entitle him to your support for the office of Register of Wills of Washington c ounty at the primary election tomorrow. Col. Aiken entered the service as captain and was twice promoted for gallantry in action. He was in several of the greatest engagements of the war: Chateau-Thierry, Meuse-Argonne, the Second Battle of the Marne, Vesle River and the Thiecourt sector. He was gassed in the Vesle river action and wounded in the battle of the Argonne.

"Colonel Aiken's long service as clerk in the commissioners' office peculiarly equips him for the duties of Register of Wills. The repeated claims that the office requires the services of an experienced lawyer are

NOTICE

We, the undersigned Citizens of Charleroi, Pa., having learned that there is a report being circulated, viz., saying that a meeting was held with a view to having the Italian Society refused to rent their Hall located on Eighth street, Charleroi, Pa., for the purpose of Labor Organizations holding meetings there. We wish to say that this statement is absolutely untrue.

We also wish to state that the purpose of said meeting was to try to find out the scource from which the Anarchistic literature that was passed on our streets came from. We have reason to believe that there have been and still are certain persons in this community who are connected with Bolsheviki activities, that should be stamped out, and believe that all those who are interested in the welfare of this community should assist in every way possible.

Much "talk" in the rearing and training of children could be eliminated with great benefit to both child and parent. One sees and feels constantly the inconsistency of dissertations (as to manners and motives) to children from parents who are themselves signal failures as far as the effectiveness and efficiency of their own lives are concerned. observes the New York Evening Telegram. We must curb the "don't" and the "do" to our children and also to our associates until our own manner of conversation is more indicative of real thought than the average chatter and talk of women would sometimes signify.

The Kiss a Religious Observance.

THE MAKING OF A FAMOUS MEDICINE

How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Is Prepared For Woman's Use.

A visit to the laboratory where this successful remedy is made impresses even the casual looker-on with the reliability, accuracy, skill and cleanliness which attends the making of this great medicine for woman's ills.

Over 350,000 pounds of various herbs are used anually and all have to be gathered at the season of the year when their natural juices and medicinal substances are at their best.

The most successful solvents are used to extract the medicinal properties from these herbs.

Every utensil and tank that comes in contact with the medicine is sterilized and as a final precaution in cleanliness the medicine is pasteurized and sealed in sterile bottles.

It is the wonderful combination of roots and herbs, together with the skill and care used in its preparation which has made this famous medicine so successful in the treatment of female ills.

The letters from women who have been restored to health by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which we are continually publishing attest to its virtue.

is the rate at which your money is spent, Mr. Taxpayer, by the Board of County Commissioners. The total does not meanmuch to you unless you know what your taxes did for you. Mr. Watson has compiled a table that shows by percentages

COUNTY COMMISSIONER WATSON

FOUR MILLION DOLLARS

Not a breath of suspicion has ever attached to this enormous expenditures—in every instance you got your money's worth. In the next four years, the county commissioners will spend over of your money. This year you select the man who will handle the business for you. Will you vote for some untried candidate, or will you vote for a man whose record shows that he has combined economy with efficiency, and whose length of service as your servant gives him the experience that means dollars and cents to you? If honesty, economy, efficiency and experience count.

FIVE MILLION DOLLARS

VOTE FOR J. W. HUGUS OF ELLSWORTH FOR REGISTER OF WILLS

The office, Register of Wills, is one of Washington County's most important offices and requires in its administration a man skilled in business affairs.

Mr. Hugus is that kind of a man. He is Vice-President of the National Bank of Ellsworth, and has had 20 years experience along the lines that are essential in the proper conduct of the Register of Wills office.

Ellsworth is one of Washington County's foremost towns, noted for its schools, mines, baseball club and, above all, for its scarcity of Democratic votes. Mr. Hugus is Chairman of the Republican Party at Ellsworth and is the first candidate for any county office from the Ellsworth-Cokeburg District.

He is opposed by Messrs. Parshall, Aiken and Tombaugh, all of whom are from the town of Washington.

Ellsworth and Cokeburg have done much to contribute to the prosperity of Charleroi; show your appreciation by voting for their candidate, J. W. Hugus, as against the other candidates, who are all from Washington.

"Hear no ill of a friend
Nor speak any of an enemy"

Mr Voter:

In the closing hours of my campaign for re-election to the office of Register of Wills of Washington County, I desire to call your attention to the following.

"During my entire administration I have never had one single appeal from a Tax appraisement."

"During my entire administration I have never had a decision rendered by this office reversed by the Higher Courts."

"During my administration, Washington County has never been called upon to spend one dollar in litigation eminating from this office."

My Republicanism is beyond question.

THE JAPANESE BOYCOTT

While the world in general regards the Chinese as all but helpless—an impression somewhat deepened by the Shantung incident—there are times when they show extraordinary strength and ingenuity. Their recent boycott of Japanese goods is an example of what extremes of determination and courage they can be driven to. From Japanese newspaper reports it appears that the Japanese government has become alarmed over the success of this boycott, and the Chinese version of its success is set out in the following report from Shantung:

"Chinese compradores say that the value of goods imported into China from Japan before the strike averaged $40,000,000 a month, but the strike has reduced this to below the $10.000,000 mark. Merchandise such as cotton, yarns, machinery, medicine and lumber and other articles are completely banned. while only a limited amount of business is done in coal, paper, piece goods, toys matches and stationery."

The loss of trade is serious enough but what the Japanese are particularly interested in is the expansion of Chinese industry under the boycott. Already many articles of commerce once purchased almost exclusively from Japanese exporters are now being manufacturded in China, the government assisting by educating the people to demand certain goods made in China.

SELF DETERMINATION

An interesting announcement is made that the State Department at Washington has notified President Caberera of Gautemala, who has been thechief executive of that country for many years, that he must not be a candidate for re-election. Heretofore the Administration has confined its efforts to prevent self-determination to dictating the nomination of United States senators. the most of whom have been defeated. Perhaps it thinks it will have better luck in Central America; but perhaps it won't. People down that way are uncertain politically, and making the world safe for democracy, or anything else, isn't their specialty.

EXCUSING THE GREASERS

It is reported that President Wilson was "greatly surprised and vexed" because an American army flier was wounded by Carranza troops. Why the surprise? Reports indicate that nearly 300 Americans have been killed by Greasers since the trouble down there started. and the records show 26 known raids across our Southern border since Huerta—the man who wouldn't salute—was deposed. But the State Department is now engaged in smoothing over this latest outrage, and nothing will be done. it is stated because even in Europe, when an aviator crosses a boundary line he does it at the risk of being fired upon for they are afraid of spies over there. So that establisces a precedent for our Department of State That is the Europe we are asked to link up with—league of nations

AUTO ACCIDENT MAY PROVE FATAL

John Hawker of Fayette City, was seriously if not fatally hurt in an automobile accident which occurred Sunday evening about 8 o'clock, on the road leading from Searight's to Fayette City. In the car at the time of the accident were Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Hawker and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lang all of Fayette City.

At the time of the accident it is said Mrs. Hawker was driving the machine, a bog Studebaker. The party was on the way home from Unintown, and when about a mile from Searights the driver of the car got off the road. In trying to get back on again the machine was plunged down an embankment, rolling over twice. Mr. Hawker was seriously injured, his skull being fractured and one arm broken, but the balance of the party escaped unhurt. Hawker was taken to the Uniontown hospital, w here his condition is considered critical.

The date for Donora's home-coming celebration has been postponed until October 9th to 12th inclusive. "Eight years ago Col. Aiken was ambitous to be Register of Wills and had done some preliminary work in his own behalf. He was prevailed upon not to formally enter the contest at that time. We believe that the sacrifice of his ambition eight years ago and his continued service to the country at a small salary entitle him to this promotion without considering his services overseas.

CUMMINS HAS ENVIABLE RECORD AS TRIAL LAWYER BEFORE COURTS OF COUNTY

The office of district attorney is one that requires the services of a real trial lawyer; one who can procure convictions when justified, yet one who will conscientiously see that the rights of those accused are at all times fully protected and that conviction shall not be had unless warranted.

Mr. Cummins is one of the leading trial lawyers at the Washington county bar. His ability is clearly shown by his unique record in trial work. During his practice before the local court he has tried 463 cases and of this number has won 404.

Mr. Cummins, if nominated and elected will not attempt to see how much money he can collect from the accused, but will allow those matters to be taken care of by the court and probation officer in whose jurisdiction they lie. Mr. Cummins promises to see that the rights of the public are protected and also give a square deal to those accused. 86-t1-*

An Open Statement.

To the Public:—

I thought itmight interest the people of Charleroi to learn of the following facts: I am reliably informed that Mr. Brady, tax collector, has announced that while he thinks I am all right, he is opposed to me being nominated for Council, and that I will not get "the Mickey vote." (The word Mickey is the way he used it.")

As far as his personal opposition to me is concerned he has the right to vote as he pleases; in fact I welcome his opposition. I feel that it will not weaken my candidacy in the least. but rather get me added support. As regards the latter part of the statement I question whether he has the authority to say how the Mickeys will vote

Yours truly,

VOTERS ATTENTION

Is it a reasonable proposition to keep a man in county office (outside of the judgeship) for four straight terms? What must the voters do to satisfy some candidates desire to always be feeding at the public crib? It cannot be done; you can not satisfy some candidates.

James Heffran is a candidate for the fourth term for Coroner. Don't you voters believe he has had enough in 12 years at the public's expense? Vote for a change by voting for WILLIAM GREENLEE, for Coroner.

Why Give The Present District Attorney A Life Job?

A Vote For

W. W. Hawkins

means a vote for a man af ability to administer to the duties of this important office.

The people of Charleroi in voting for W. W. Hawkins can do so and feel that they are supporting a man who has worked hand in hand with their local charity board and a man who has always granted every legitimate request made of him. He has done more for local charities than any other man who has served on the Poor Board of the county.

CAPTAIN JAMES E. GEE

Four Reasons WHY the Democrats of Washington County Should Vote for Capt. James E. Gee.

1st.—He has always been a loyal Democrat.

2nd.—His experience and knowledge of road and other construction work qualifies him for the office.

3rd.—He served his country in the army for the past three years, on the Mexican Border in 1916, and later in the great war. Just returned from France in May, 1919.

4th.—If nominated and elected to the office he seeks, he promises to serve the people of Washington county with the same loyalty and fidelity in which he served his country.

Mark X After His Name At the Primaries.

Locust Breeding.

Climate has nothing to do with the appearance of the locust. When the female deposits her eggs in a twig, and the young locust starts to mature in the ground under that tree, time is the factor. In this respect the locust is curious, if for nothing else. Because heat and cold are in general a wonderful agency in all life. But this may be due in some degree to the fact that the locust burrows deep and the temperature in the habitat it has selected for its long and slow growth to maturity in the shell or sheath which incloses it, is somewhat like that in a coal mine, much the same the year around. It is the breeding season of the adult, and not the warmth of spring 17 years later, which seems to decide the date of emergence from the soil under the twig of ovi-deposition.

Palm's Many Uses.

The carnauba palm of Brazil, like the bamboo of Asia, serves varied purposes. Young leaves are coated with the wax that is normally made into candles and gramophone records. Older leaves yield a good fiber, which is prized for mats, hats and hammocks. They also form roofs for cabins or huts, and the trunk supplies timber for the structures and for fine cabinet work. The root is employed in medicine. The tree's fruit is food for man and farm stock, another plant part supplies a kind of sago; the seeds are not only rich in oil but are roasted as a coffee substitute, and young leaves are eaten like cabbage. A nutritive portion of the pith is fermented into a pleasing drink.

Hints for Paper Hangers.

A new, unwhitewashed wall should always have a good glue size made by dissolving half a pound of glue in a gallon of water, or a coating of good paste put on and allowed to dry before the paper is hung. If the wall be whitewashed it should be scratched with a stiff brush to remove every particle of loose lime from the surface, after which it should be thoroughly swept with a broom and coated with the glue size or thin paste. The paste should be free from lumps and laid on as evenly as possible. It should be made of good rye or wheat flour, beaten smooth in cold water before boiling, and should not be allowed to boil more than a minute or two.

Avoid Becoming Household Slave.

Being a martyr to duty sounds thrilling and looks well in print, but in everyday life such a role soon loses its charm. Therefore the woman who spends herself in ways that bring her back absolutely no return should right about face, take time for an occasional outing, and learn to keep in touch with what is transpiring in the great world around her. If she hopes to find her family appreciative she will certainly resolve to act on this suggestion, for it invariably happens that the mother who becomes a household slave receives little, if any, thanks at all from those for whom she toils unceasingly.—Exchange.

Philip Sidney.

When we review the life of Sir Philip Sidney, it is certain that one thought will survive all other thoughts about him in our minds. This man, we shall say, was born to show the world what goes to the making of an English gentleman. But he belongs to his age; and the age of Elizabeth differed in many essential qualities from the age of Anne and from the age of Victoria. Sidney was the typical English gentleman of the modern era at the moment of transition from the mediæval period. He was the hero of our [illegible] —Addington Symonds.

Owl's Digestive Apparatus.

Owls have a peculiar method of eating. They eat everything they want, whenever they find it, and swallow the "whole works"—whole. The idea would be the same if you sat down to dinner and consumed the beefsteak, plates, napkins, tablecloth, knives, forks and spoons. After the owl has had a conglomeration in his department the interior for some time and [illegible] of been digested for all the [illegible] it has there is in it, his organism [illegible] mit him to drop the refu[illegible] aside per- his mouth in the f[illegible] out through round pellet.—Omaha World-Herald.

Cause of Improvement.

A dispe[illegible] of Improvement. from a [illegible] official had returned see a[illegible] month's holiday, and called to ly[illegible] Irish patient "who was generally as crass as two sticks." After a few preliminary remarks the patient congratulated the doctor on his improved appearance. "Faith, docthor, the holiday has done yez good—yer as brown as a berry an' as loight ov fut as a ragman!" "I can return the compliment, Mick; you seem to be greatly improved," said the doctor. "Och, sorr," replied Mick, "Oi've mendid iviry hour since the minit yez wint away!"

Fourteenth Century Love Token.

The Lincolnshire (Eng.) Architectural and Archaeological society has presented to the Lincoln City and County museum a charming little fibula of the time of Edward III or Richard II. The brooch is circular in shape and about half-an-inch across, and it was originally embellished with six emeralds. One of the emeralds is missing, but with this exception the specimen is perfect. An inscription on the back shows it to be a fourteenth century love token.

The Scorpion.

The scorpion is a well-known venomous insect of hot climates, shaped much like a lobster. It is usually not more than two or three inches long, but in tropical climates is sometimes six inches in length. The wilderness of Sinai is especially alluded to as having been inhabited by scorpions at the time of the exodus, and to this day these animals are common in the same district, as well as in some parts of Palestine. Scorpions are generally found in dry and in dark places, under stones and in ruins. They are carnivorous in their habits, and move along in a threatening attitude, with the tail elevated. The sting, which is situated at the end of the tail, has at its base a gland that secretes a poisonous fluid, which is discharged into the wound by two minute orifices at its extremity. In hot climates the sting often occasions much suffering, and sometimes alarming symptoms.

Courtesy Always Pays.

When you mingle courtesy with business principles you take out insurance on success. Ross Winans was only acting the part of a gentleman toward two foreigners whom he was showing through his shops in Baltimore. It later developed that they had been sent to America by the czar to select a man to introduce the manufacture of locomotives into Russia. While there were many larger and better equipped shops than his he was the man chosen and within a few years his annual income had reached the $100,000 mark. Good manners have a way of getting where brusqueness and force have difficulty. The grace and charm of Josephine did more to make France safe than the sword of Napoleon. The courtesy of well-bred manners carries men to fortune and power not possible under any other circumstances.

"Vold."

The word vold means "grass-covered plain," and Volland, Voldland, or Vollan are Norwegian farm names that mean "grass-covered flat land." Vold is a common farm name in Norway, but it appears most frequently in composite words, such as Voldheim, Voldstad, Rotvold, Finvold, etc. The word "land" appears also often in composite Norwegian farm names, such as Langland, Liland (sloping land), Matland (mat means "food"), Fintland (fine land), Flatland (flat land), Morland (gravel land), Sandland (sandy land), Buland or Boland (residence land), England (meadow land), Rudland or Ryland (cleared land), Hovland (court land), Holland (high land), Birkeland (birch land), Kleivland (steep land), Gardland (farm land), Goland (good land), Thorland (Thor was the god of strength), etc.

Ark of the Covenant.

The ark of the covenant was the sacred chest which the Lord directed Moses to make to contain the tables of the law which he had received on Mount Sinai. It was 4½ feet long, 2¼ feet wide and 2¼ feet high. It was covered within and without with gold and was carried by staves inserted in rings on the corners. This ark of the covenant was the most sacred possession of the Israelites. It was placed in the holy of holies in the tabernacle and later in a similar position in Solomon's temple, where it was closely guarded.

Cause of Improvement.

A dispensary official had returned from a month's holiday and called to see an Irish patient "who was gineraly as cross as two sticks." After a few preliminary remarks the patient congratulated the doctor on his improved appearance. "Faith, docthor, the holiday hes done yez good—yer as brown as a berry an' as loight ov fut as a ragman!" "I can return the compliment, Mick; you seem to be greatly improved," said the doctor. "Och, sorr," replied Mick, "Oi've mendid iviry hour since the minit yez wint away."

Eats a Thousand Bugs.

A cliff swallow will eat a thousand flies, mosquitoes, wheat-midgets or beetles that injure fruit trees in a day and therefore are to be encouraged. This bird is also known as the cave swallow because it plasters its nest on the outside of a barn or other building up under the eaves. Colonies of several thousand will build their nests together on the side of a cliff. These nests shaped like a flattened gourd or water bottle are made of bits of clay rolled into pellets and lined with straw or feathers. This bird winters in the tropics.

Sloths Ancient and Modern.

Not more than 100,000 years ago there were on this continent giant sloths, as big as fair-sized elephants. The skeletons of specimens are preserved today in museums, one of the largest species being called the megatherium. At the present time their race is represented in tropical America by a small and degenerate breed. These modern sloths live in trees, hanging from branches for hours without moving. Thus it is not easy to discover their presence; and, as a special and peculiar disguise, a grayish-green lichen grows on their fur.

N-n-no.

"How you do stutter, my poor lad! Did you ever go to a stammering school?" "N-n-no, sir; I dud-dud-do this naturally."

Castner's Candidacy

FOR County Treasurer.

Based on American Principle of a SQUARE DEAL!

James P. Castner has made his canvass for the Republican nomination for County Treasurer in a straight-forward, clean-cut manner. In announcing his candidacy he felt that his recognized ability to conduct the office justified him in his ambition, for after all a Public Office is a public trust and no man should aspire to an office which he knows he is not prepared by training or experience to fill.

Mr. Castner also felt that he could go to every fellow Republican in the county and look him in the face and say that he deserved consideration, because he had always been a Loyal Republican, working in the ranks ever since he was a voter, and on the County Committee when called, ALWAYS FOR THE SUCCESS OF THE PARTY.

JAMES P. CASTNER.

CASTNER NEVER BEFORE ASKED FOR A PUBLIC OFFICE. He was never a Republican for Revenue Only. His Republicanism Has Stood the Test. And Being a Good Republican made him no less a Good American.

During the war Mr. Castner gave his services to every movement for the success of the great cause so many of our boys fought for.

Castner was a leader in his home town of Donora for every war work activity and no town made a better record in its Patriotic Devotion to place Washington County in the forefront of the counties which were 100 per cent loyal.

Mr. Castner has never been either a narrow partisan, a factionalist or provincial. He has been a good citizen in his own community which is testified to by the loyal friends who are supporting him. He has been a good citizen of his county and in every county-wide movement has done his part. He is a good Pennsylvanian and a loyal American citizen.

Mr. Castner is a seeker of public office only in the sense that he feels he can be of service to his county. There are thousands of Republicans in this county who were sentimentally neither for nor against Castner who believe that public office in Washington county, as well as in every other county, is best served when, regarded as having been created NOT for the continuous tenancy of any one man. NOT even for the enrichment of any one person.

It is the spirit of American fair play. It is the spirit of the square deal and it appeals to every thinking Republican voter at this time in considering the candidacy of JAMES P. CASTNER for Treasurer.

VOTE FOR A LOYAL REPUBLICAN
A COMPETENT BUSINESS MAN
A PATRIOTIC AMERICAN
THE SQUARE DEAL CANDIDATE.

FOR TREASURER

JAS. P. CASTNER,

Not an Ex-Office Holder—"The Logical Candidate."

If nominated and elected Treasurer of Washington County Mr. Castner will not be a life tenant on the Republican party but will be willing and anxious to give "the other fellow" a chance.

OFFICERS HAVE EXCITING TIME

minute. The detectives let it be known that they were there to take the machines back to Pittsburg, and were going to do it even if it caused a "war." When the residents were apprised of the fact that the officers were ready to use force, if necessary, they were indignant. The church and fire bells were rung and within a short time the town square was filled with residents. Several indignant speeches were made but the officers were firm. They said the machines were stolen in Pittsburg, that they had the proof and that the Peggs had made a confession. The Quakers who had purchased protested, but the officers were firm and finally the chauffeurs took possession, and with motorcycles leading the caravan left for Pittsburg. There were 19 cars all told, which the Peggs had taken and which they had disposed of to residents of Mt. Pleasant.

The Peggs are to be given a hearing tomorrow, and it is promised that quite a number of Mt. Pleasant residents will be on hand to attend.

Whether any further games will be played in the tri-town series has not yet been determined. Monongahela has two games yet to play, each one with Ellsworth and Charleroi, and the worst they could do would be to make it a tie with Charleroi in the way of games won and lost. At present Monongahela has 6 won and 2 lost; Charleroi 5 won and 4 lost; Ellsworth 2 won and 7 lost. In the event of a tie with all games played it would make the deciding contest extremely interesting.

EACH TEAM WINS IN DOUBLE HEADER

The Charleroi and Monongahela base ball teams "hooked up" in a double header at Quinn park New Eagle, on Saturday last, which resulted in an even break, each team winning a game. Monongahela with Rapp on the rubber won the opener, the score being 7 to 1. Braithwood opposed him, but was unable to hold the hitters from down the river. The second game was somewhat of a surprise to Monongahela, as they had saved Stokes for this contest expecting that if they took the opener wih Rapp it would be easy picking with Stokes on the rubber. However the uncertaintly of baseball bobbed up serenely in this game and with Phillips doing the heaving Charleroi won the contest by a score of 4 to 0. This is the second time Charleroi has won from Monongahela with Stokes on the rubber, both of the victories being shutouts.

TWO INTERESTING SERVICES ARE HELD

Two special services were held Sabbath evening in the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church. At the meeting of the Christian Endeavor Society Miss Bertha Stutzman, a guest in the home of Miss Nell Ryland, gave a report of the recent C. E. convention in Buffalo that was much enjoyed by the large audience present.

At the close of the preaching service Rev. Burson gave a description of the "Shantung affair." With the aid of a large map he showed the positions of the different countries and how Japan viewed the situation. The address was timely, since the United States Senate will discuss the treaty in Washington this week.
